

BAD TIME FOR FIRES.

When the Mercury is Hovering About the Zero Mark.

BARNESVILLE, O., HAS A BIG ONE.

The Most Wreathful Conflagration in the Town's History—Loss Between $75,000 and $100,000—Bradford, Pa., Is Also Scorched to the Extent of About $100,000—Firemen Suffer.

WHEELING, Jan. 14.—At an early hour Saturday morning the town of Barnesville, O., 30 miles west of this place, experienced the most disastrous conflagration in the history of this place. The loss being estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000. The fire is supposed to have started from a natural gas fire in the novelty store of M. T. Ward on Main street, and quickly spread to the Enterprise printing office and other adjoining business houses.

When the fire department, one steamer only, arrived on the scene, the fire had a big start and the volunteer department was inadequate to the occasion, the very cold weather adding to the difficulties of the occasion. Telegraphic appeals for aid to the Wheeling, Cambridge and Zanesville fire departments were at once sent out, but in a short time the steamers that supplied the engines went dry, and the request was countermanded. The fire was only stopped when it reached the fireproof Bradford block at about 3 a. m.

The Losses and Insurance in detail are as follows:

J. W. Jenkins, $20,000; buildings and stock insured for $11,500.
F. P. Lee, Enterprise printing office, $10,000; insurance, $1,500.
R. M. Gunning, building and stock, $8,000; insurance, $2,000.
M. T. Ward, stock, $1,000; insurance, $500.
Baker & Walton, loss $1,000 on stock and fixtures; no insurance.
R. M. Patterson, $3,000; insurance, $1,500.
McKeever & Stevenson, $3,000; fully insured.
Mrs. Sarah McKeever, building, $3,000; no insurance.
Dr. Weilons, $5,000 on building and contents; insurance, $1,500.
I. R. Lane & Son, $5,000; insurance, $2,500.

Kinney & Taylor, building and stock, $5,000; no insurance; John Hill, building and stock, $6,000; insurance, $1,500.
Mr. Meyers, residence, storeroom and contents, $5,000; no insurance.

Other properties damaged by the fire are McKeever's hardware store, McCall's livery barn, the Knights of Pythias lodge room, the Albert House, R. Gantenheimer's residence and jewelry store, Reinheimer's clothing store, the People's National bank, the Bradford block and a few others, the latter only slightly.

AT BRADFORD, PA.

Several People Have Very Narrow Escapes From Their Homes.

BRADFORD, Jan. 14.—Sunday morning a fire was discovered in the Sheehan House at 99 Mechanic street. But few of the occupants were out of bed at such an early hour, and the sleeping inhabitants had very narrow escapes from cremation.

Two of the women, Mary Callahan and Mary Doreau, jumped from the second story windows in their night clothes and both sustained very serious injuries. Although Miss Callahan's left wrist and ankle were both fractured in the terrible fall, she dragged herself through the snow to a place of safety, almost perishing in the cold on the way. The flames destroyed the house owned and occupied by Mrs. Mary Peterson, and that lady, with her two daughters, saved none of their possessions but the night clothes in which they escaped.

A Furious Blizzard Was Raging at the time the fire was first discovered, and the thermometer stood at 8 below zero. The firemen immediately responded to the general alarm, and in a very short time had eight streams of water playing on the rapidly spreading blaze.

The Peterson, Sheehan and Leonard buildings, fronting on Mechanic street, which were all wooden structures, burned like tinder, and the flames rolled from them with fierce energy against the large brick block on the corner of Mechanic and Main street, which was owned by Mr. D. F. Rosenberg. This structure was totally destroyed, as were the Nusbaum block, also a large brick building and the Rothstein & Smith Brothers' buildings fronting on Main street.

In the Smith building, when it was ablaze from foundation to roof, and it was thought that everybody was out in safety, Mrs. J. F. McQuiston, one of the occupants, rushed from her rooms with her clothing and hair ablaze. The firemen saved her from cremation, her husband was badly burned about the hands in working with the flames, and before the fire was extinguished had his hands and ears frozen.

Firemen Frozen.

At least 100 of the firemen had their ears, face or hands frost bitten more or less severely. Robert Sisco and Robert Heleme of the Citizen Hose company are so badly frozen that their condition is critical. Ice fully an inch thick froze on the firemen's clothing, placing them in an armor that impeded their work materially.

Owing to the fierceness of the gale it was an exceedingly hard fire to fight, and for a time it seemed that the business part of town would be wiped out. An alley, running back from Main street and intersecting with one from Mechanic street, formed a square in which the firemen succeeded in confining the blaze. The origin of the fire is as yet unknown.

The total loss was about $100,000, with an insurance of about $35,000.

Was It Incendiary?

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—Fire partially destroyed the house of Patrick Gallagher, at 35 Davenport street, in which two families besides the Gallaghers resided. Evidence of incendiarism discovered by the firemen led to the arrest of Gallagher for arson. He and his wife were away from home when the fire broke out.

Machine Shops.

SOUTH MANCHESTER, Conn., Jan. 14.—The machine shops and engineering connected with Cheney Brothers' silk mill was gutted by fire early yesterday. Treasurer Cheney estimates the loss at from $50,000 to $75,000, which is covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. While assisting in the effort to subdue the blaze, Gordon Dunn fell from a roof and sustained a fracture of the skull and thigh.

Two Children Frozen.

JEFFERSON, Ia., Jan. 14.—The house of J. H. Badridge, near this city, and parts of its contents were burned Saturday night. It was very cold at the time, and nine children, aged from 1 to 16 years, froze their feet and hands. The family is destitute and the children are in a critical condition.

Business Part Burned.

OMAHA, Jan. 14.—Five buildings, comprising practically all of the business part of the town of Harbine, Neb., burned yesterday morning, entailing a loss of $18,000. The heaviest single loss is L. C. Schloss, general merchandise. The origin of the fire is unknown.

NITROGLYCERIN EXPLODES.

Fourteen Barrels Let Go Near Gibsonville, Ohio—Nobody Hurt.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—Bulletins from various towns in the Ohio oil field yesterday forenoon gave rise to the belief that a disastrous explosion had occurred. Upon investigation it was learned that 1,500 quarts of nitroglycerin in a magazine, belonging to the Ohio and Indiana Torpedo company, near Gibsonville, had exploded. The magazine was demolished and a great hole torn in the ground, but nobody was injured. The shock was felt in a dozen towns within a radius of 25 miles of the scene of the explosion.

ASPHALT AT ARDMORE.

A Deposit More Precious Than a Silver Mine.

ARDMORE, I. T., Jan. 14.—The recent discovery and development of an extensive deposit of asphalt within three miles of this place promises to be the most important event in Ardmore's history. A deposit, varying from 80 to 100 feet wide, easily traced for a distance of three miles, has been discovered and opened. Asphalt dealers and operators from south and east are daily arriving and the country is being thoroughly prospected for additional deposits.

OUTRAGE OF RUFFIANS.

Two Women Brutally Whipped and Shot by Men—Names Known.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 14.—At Sinking, a small village across the hills in Kentucky, ruffians have for several days terrorized the people. Among other atrocities two respectable women were without provocation brutally assaulted. One of them, Mrs. John Spradling, was horsewhipped by a man named Tom Barber, and Miss Gussie Ratliff was shot and severely wounded by John Sparks in his dooryard.

COLONEL COIT IS INDICTED.

Washington C. H. Grand Jury Charges Him With Manslaughter.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14.—Colonel A. B. Coit has been notified from Washington C. H., stating that he has been indicted for manslaughter in connection with the recent riot. Sheriff Cook was not indicted.

Ship's Captain Held.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Captain J. G. Baker, commander of the American ship Kenilworth, was held to answer, in bonds of $2,500 by Commissioner Peacock, for failing to render assistance to the American ship Flora A. Sawyer, with which his vessel collided in the Atlantic on May 19. The complaint alleged that Captain Baker declined to give the name of his vessel or her port of registry, and that he departed from the scene of the disaster before he discovered whether assistance was needed. Captain Baker waived examination and promptly gave bail.

Chicago Drainage Canal Bonds.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The board of trustees of the sanitary district, which has charge of the construction of the drainage canal, has awarded the sale of its last issue of bonds to the New York Life Insurance company. The issue amounts to $4,000,000 and bears 4-1/2 per cent interest. The bid of the insurance company was 100 1-2 per cent, and being the highest unconditional offer for the entire issue, it was accepted. One half the bonds will be delivered Feb. 5 and the balance Feb. 15.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—J. B. Meriam, president of the Meriam & Morgan Oil company, which was reported to have been consolidated with the Sun, Craig & Crystal Oil companies of Toledo, says there is no truth in the report from Toledo to the effect that his company has been absorbed by the Standard. He also says there probably is no truth in the report so far as it applies to the other companies named.

SOMETHING'S WRONG.

A Great Spirit of Unrest in New South Wales.

SIMILAR TO NEWFOUNDLAND.

In Both Places the Number of Unemployed Is Increasing Daily, and With the Increase Comes a Renewal of Agitation. Two Papers Declare That the Government Should Do Something.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 14.—Advices received by the Miwara from Sydney, N. S. W., state that a great spirit of unrest is felt in that colony, owing to the depression of trade. The number of unemployed men is daily increasing and the increase is followed by renewal of agitation in the form of meetings and processions of unemployed through the principal streets of Sydney, besides numerous deputations to Parliament.

The Mail says the agitation has begun to assume threatening tones and the government must take action at once to alleviate the distress or serious consequences are threatened.

The revenue for November last showed a startling decrease. Though the intentions of the government are not definitely known, the ministers have hinted that they will shortly raise a loan for the purpose of carrying on public works to afford relief.

GROWING WORSE DAILY.

The Deplorable Situation Which Exists at St. Johns, N. F.

ST. JOHNS, Jan. 14.—Owing to the difficulty of obtaining money to set the relief works going, the government has not been able to accomplish as much as desired. They will have to make some advances this week, as the number of persons without food is increasing daily. The clergymen are trying to arouse their congregations, and to induce them to give more towards the local charity funds, but few are in a position to respond.

AS THE TIMES SEES IT.

The Imperial Government Must Do Something, Why Not Now.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—In an editorial The Times says that the Newfoundland crisis has reached a point where it becomes imperative that some decision shall be made as to the future of the colony. As unhappily often happens, the weight of the general calamity falls the heaviest upon those who are wholly innocent of having caused it. The early suppression of the St. Johns riots speaks much for the enduring spirit of the people in the face of the prospect of wholesale starvation. There seems little doubt that the responsibility of dealing with the situation must eventually fall upon the imperial government. Therefore no needless delay should be permitted for a useless piling up of further liabilities.

If the imperial government decides to intervene the first condition must be the renunciation of responsible government, which the colony has misused. If it should be proved that the revenue of the colony is totally inadequate to provide the interest on its debt, it may even be found necessary to administer its affairs as those of an estate in bankruptcy. The whole system of colonial responsibility would be ended if the liability for debts contracted by the local legislature was by any mistaken act of generosity shifted to the shoulders of the British taxpayer. In the case of Newfoundland there is reason to believe that care and economy and a simpler and cheaper administration would do much to redeem the situation.

DESPERADO BILL COOK CAPTURED

Officers Get the Drop on Him and He Loses His Nerve.

SANTA FE, Jan. 14.—United States Marshal Hall has received a dispatch from Sheriff C. C. Perry of Chaves county who Saturday captured Bill Cook, the notorious outlaw, stating that the prisoner had been safely landed in the county jail at Roswell yesterday forenoon. The outlaw's capture was effected at an isolated cattle ranch on the Great plains, a few miles southeast of Old Fort Sumner. Perry and two deputies were in search of horse thieves, when they met and recognized Cook at first glance. Quicker than a flash Perry and his men had their Winchester up, and Cook was so thoroughly surprised that and although he had two six-shooters about his waist, his hands went up at the command of the sheriff. Handcuffs were put on his wrists and he was mounted and strapped on his own horse, which was found to be on the plains near the cabin. One led the animal while Sheriff Perry and his other deputy rode behind them. Thus the trip to Roswell was made, a distance of 65 miles. Marshal Hall expects to hear from the United States district attorneys of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas to whom he wired announcing Cook's capture. It is said that with the state, express and railroad company offers there is a reward of $15,000 for Cook's capture.

Cook Interviewed.

In an interview with the captured bandit at Roswell he acknowledged himself as Bill Cook, and said that when captured he was on his way to Old Mexico and meant to quit the highway business. He continued:

"The officers have me and will take me back where I am known and there is no use for me to deny it, but don't give me a—like the other fellows have, for I have not committed half the crimes that are charged to me. I have done all my work on the open highway, never killed anyone, nor have I ever robbed a poor man unless it was of a horse or food, that I was compelled to have when dodging the officers.

"My brother Jim was never connected with any train robberies, and I did not have anything to do with the Rock Island or Texas and Pacific hold-ups, nor the Santa Fe from Fort Worth, but did rob the 'Frisco at Red Fork last July. Five other boys were with me. I had nothing to do with bank robberies. I was not in but the one robbery, and if indicted for that under the name or Bill Cook will plead guilty."

HEAVY FALL OF SNOW.

WIB Average From Twelve to Fifteen Inches All Over Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 14.—Dispatches from many Ohio towns says that the cold wave began passing away yesterday, and was followed by a heavy fall of snow, the average depth on the level being from a foot to 15 inches. Everywhere travel on the street railways was impeded. In this city the storm reached its height at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it snowed furiously for four hours. The electric and cable cars were run with great difficulty, and for a time early in the evening more than 100 cars were stalled in the center of the city. Trains on all the railroads were from one to two hours late all day.

Snow in the Empire State.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The storm, which was advancing on New York from the northwest yesterday, has dissipated, and at 10 o'clock last night the temperature commenced to rise. Shortly before that hour, however, the thermometer registered 9 above zero, the lowest temperature of the day. The heaviest snowfall reported was at Buffalo, where in 14 hours, 11 inches had descended. At 10 o'clock last night it was still snowing there.

The snowfall in this city was extremely light, being merely the edge of the storm which centered over Buffalo.

The fall in temperature along the Atlantic coast line yesterday ranged from 10 to 30, extending from Boston to Tampa, Fla., and the freezing point extended as far south as Savannah.

A foot of snow has fallen at Dawsville, N. Y., and advices from Medina and Troy report the country roads blocked and railroad traffic at a standstill. The temperature is very low.

Cold in Texas.

HOUSTON, Jan. 14.—The weather all over the south and east of Texas has been colder than for five years with thin ice ponds every morning. No go—rain has fallen since August and from all over come complaints that the ground is too hard for plowing. The freeze has stopped the growth of the second crop of cotton and put a stop to picking. In many sections the range has been devastated by prairie fires and catt have suffered considerably during the last two cold snaps, which have come in quick succession.

Blizzard.

BELLEFOONTE, Pa., Jan. 14.—The cold snap and blizzard struck here Saturday night in all its fury, snow falling to the depth of eight inches and the mercury dropping 50 degrees in less than six hours. The snow is now from three to four feet deep. Last night a high wind was blowing and the roads will be blocked this morning. This promises to be the coldest night of the season.

In Pennsylvania.

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 14.—A terrific snowstorm reached here at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The thermometer fell 45 degrees in four hours and the wind blew at a rate of 30 miles per hour. The lowest temperature reached was 4 below zero.

Shivering at Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 14.—The weather for the past few days has been remarkably cold for this section. The thermometer yesterday morning registered 7 above zero. The weather, however, is moderating, with indications that the cold snap is ended.

In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Yesterday was the coldest of the winter here, the thermometer registering as low as 6 above zero at an early hour yesterday morning. During the entire day the temperature was little above 10.

Gorged and Frozen at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—The river gorged early yesterday and is frozen solid in many places to the bottom, it is so slow.

COUNTY TREASURER SHORT.

Custer County, S. D., Has Been Unfortunate in This Line.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Jan. 14.—The county commissioners of Custer county met Saturday to settle the county affairs for the year and turn over the books to the new county officers. They were astonished when Benjamin Tunley, the treasurer for the past four years, confessed that upon examination his books would show a shortage of $3,200. Tunley is a very popular man, and has borne a good reputation. No one ever dreamed that he was a defaulter. A committee was appointed to examine his books and report. Tunley's bondsmen are fully responsible. This is the second experience of Custer county in this sort of thing, Tunley's predecessor being short $15,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—A passenger and freight train collided on the Indiana, Decatur and Western road, 45 miles of this city. The freight was trying to make a sidetrack. William R. Fletcher, engineer of the passenger train, residing in this city, was killed. Nobody else was injured.

THE HORRORS OF WAR

Have Been Felt by Some of the People of China.

THE REPORTS FROM MANCHURIA

Say Everything Has Been Burned and That the Population Has Perished From Cold.

SURVIVORS BECOME SAVAGES,

And Have Lost All Human Feeling—Impossible to Procure Either Food or Clothing—Movement of Troops of Both Armies Hindered by the Want of Supplies. Even the Stolid Chinese Are Appalled at the Prospects of an Extension of the Scenes—The Manchus Princes Will Defend Their Section of the Country in Order to Stop the Chinese Officials' Intrigues.

TIEN-TSIN, Jan. 14.—Chinese, who have arrived from Manchuria, bring ghastly reports of the desolation of the country between the Yalu river and the Liao Ho, recalling the worst horrors of the Taiping rebellion. Not a house is standing. Everything has been burned, and whole populations has perished. Only scattered groups of frozen corpses are seen, apparently those of entire families. Neither food nor fuel is procurable.

Stragglers from the Chinese army, who have taken refuge in the hills, have become savages, lost to all human feelings. The sufferings of the wounded are terrible. The movements of both the Chinese and Japanese troops are hindered by the failure of supplies from the terrified populace. The prospects of an extension of such scenes appals even the stolid Chinese.

Tired of Intrigues.

The Manchu princes have taken the defense of the country into their own hands in order to prevent the intrigues of the Chinese officials. The central government is bewildered and helpless. Li Hsing Chang, although he has been relieved of all his functions except the governor generalship of his province, still exercises indirect influence over the various officials.

PROGRAM OF CONGRESS.

Income Tax and Nicaragua Canal in the Senate—House Undecided.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The prospect is that the time of the senate will be divided during the week between the discussion of the income tax, based on the urgent deficiency bill, and the continuation of the debate on the Nicaragua bill.

Senator Cockrell, chairman of the committee on appropriations, is very hopeful of being able to dispose of the income tax question by the time the week shall be half gone, and if he should succeed in this Senator Morgan, who is in charge of the Nicaragua bill, thinks there will be no difficulty in securing a vote on the canal bill before the close of the week, thus leaving the way clear for the bankruptcy and territory admission and other bills as well as the other appropriation bills.

Chairman Cockrell does not regard seriously the prospect of the prolonging the income tax question. There will be several speeches which, while based on the deficiency bill, will be directed to the discussion of general financial questions. There is no disposition on the part of the appropriations committee to curtail these speeches, but there has come to be some talk of night sessions in case they get too numerous, or if the disposition to filibuster should appear to be more pronounced than now appears probable.

Senator Gorman will probably find opportunity today to make the speech which he had intended to make Saturday.

So far as known there are only three more general speeches to be made on the Nicaragua bill, but it is probable that others will yet be announced. Senator Turpie will speak again on the bill, and Senators Vest and White have announced a desire to be heard before the vote shall be taken.

Saturday will be given up to eulogies on the character of the late Senator Vance.

House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—There is no definite program for the house this week. There is a bare possibility that a new currency bill will be thrown into the arena of debate, but it is only a possibility. The consensus of opinion now seems to be that any proposed currency legislation to be successful must be initiated at the other end of the Capitol.

Today is District of Columbia day, and on Tuesday the house probably will take up the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, which was reported Saturday, which is the only appropriation bill on the calendar.

If the sundry civil appropriation bill (the most important of the bills not reported) before the Indian bill is disposed of, the committee on rules probably will give the evening time to business from various committees.

A day may be given to the consideration of the findings of the court of claims.

THIRTY-THREE FEET AT A BOUND.

The Tremendous Leap Made by a Hungry Wildcat After His Breakfast.

The wonderful power of a wildcat is shown in its ability to leap long distances. All of the cat tribe have immense power in their legs, and they make up in the length of their spring their inability to make a continued chase. African leopards in captivity have been known to leap from the floor of the cages and strike the top, 12 feet above. Tigers make tremendous leaps and strike down on their prey with a blow of their powerful paws as they alight. But the wildcat, for its size, is probably the most wonderful jumper of all the felines.

A hunter who is well known for his veracity recently told the following story of an adventure which illustrates this power:

"I was hunting in the snow and came across the track of a wildcat, which I followed for a long distance. Suddenly the tracks came to an end in a spot where the animal had crouched. I looked around to see what had become of the trail, and away head of me saw a bunch of blood and feathers. From that spot the track led on again off into a swamp. The situation was susceptible to but one explanation—the wildcat had been hunting for his dinner and had discovered a pleasant wandering about in the snow. The cat crept as close as he dared to the unsuspecting bird and gathered himself into an animated spiral spring, such as the cat tribe coil themselves into when preparing to spring, and releasing the trigger shot into the air, landing on top of the victim before the bird, quick as pheasants usually are, could evade the stroke. The distance from where the cat crouched to where it caught the bird was just 33 feet. I naturally supposed from the length of the leap that the cat was young and in full activity, but after I trailed it to the swamp and shot it I discovered that it was old and almost toothless. The animal's hunger may have spurred him to the great jump. If not, and the leap was an evidence of what a supernaturally wildcat can do, I wouldn't be surprised to learn that a young and active wildcat could clear at least twice that distance when pressed by necessity."—Boston Journal.

BEST MAN AT THE WEDDING.

Pat's Graphic Account of the Disastrous Mistake That He Made.

An Irish teamster asked for a half holiday for the purpose of attending his sister's wedding, and the request was granted. When he made his appearance the next morning, his right arm was in a sling, there was a plaster across his nose and a raw oyster in a pontilike against his eye. His left ear looked like a cauliflower. "Why, Pat," said his employer, "I thought you were going to your sister's wedding? You look as though you had gone to a cyclone festival."

"I wor at th' weddin, sor," said Pat. "Twas th' thruth I tould yez."

"Well, how did you get bunged up this way?" inquired the merchant.

"I'll tell yez, sor," replied Pat. "D'ye see, when I got there and went in th' people were standin' forinist the priest, an be the side of thim wor a man in a pintail coat and a big splatterin white shirt. I lucked at um, an he lucked at me. 'Oh, ho,' sez I till myself, sez I, 'an ye think yer a jew!' Wuth that I got a wee bit closer an lucked at um vance moore. He gave a twist till his lip like and turned his back. 'No Gallagher ever took that,' sez I till myself agin, an I taps me laddiebuck on the showlder."

"An who may yez be, me bould buckoo? sez I, feelin that the blood of the Gallaghers had been insulted."

"I'm the best mon," sez he.

"Th' the best mon?" says I.

"That's what I said," sez he. 'Th' best mon, an, sor," said Pat as he shifted the oyster on his eye, "he wuz."

The Word "Boss."

The word "boss," so commonly applied by an inferior to one of higher grade in the United States, is not, as generally supposed, American in its origin. It comes from the Low German and is heard frequently in continental Europe. In Germany one often sees the sign "Schlaf-Baus," which, translated, means the boss of a lodging house.—Hardware.

RICH OLD MASON

She is Queen Among the Sisterhood of Counties of Northeastern Kentucky.

Sometime ago the writer spent a week or so in Mason County and being somewhat of a newspaper man he finds nothing more agreeable than writing of Mason as he saw it. Coming down on the K. C. from the heart of the Bluegrass region, I was a little unprepared to meet the different scenery that is presented at Maysville in comparison with the lovely region of Central Kentucky.

Maysville the terminus of the K. C., located in a bend of the Ohio from which she receives her supply of coal, is a bustling city and as full of business as an egg is of meat. Situated as she is, with the granite hills behind her, makes one think of Naples and the sinister dome of Vesuvius; but unlike Naples those slumbering granite hills have no fires lighted in their heart to destroy the city. They stand like gloomy sentinels encompassing, protecting the city as if some imaginary Huns and Goths from across the Ohio might pounce upon it as they did upon Sunny Italy centuries ago.

The Ohio, "beautiful River," sweeps the length of county on north, and perhaps "Evangeline" as she floated down it in the "cumbrous boat of the exiled Academics," might have found traces of her wandering lover among those forbidding hills.

Hannibal said to his soldiers on one occasion, "Contra Alpes Italia est;" beyond those hills is another "Italia" that I wish to speak. The forbidding prospect that greets the visitor along the Ohio rapidly vanishes if he will take the trouble to procure a buggy and drive a short distance out any of the pikes leading into Maysville; the hills melt away into fertile and princely fields that are as responsive to the touch of agriculture as the key-board to the hand of the gifted musician. The soil seems to be as tenacious and enduring as the alluvial deposits of the Nile; rain or no rain the Mason County farmer is sure of some return.

Speaking of the farmer he is as much attached to the soil that he owns as the dusky Arab ever was to his steed and like him it takes a good many golden shekels to purchase a single acre. There is a sort of sentimentalism existing in regard to his land that probably gives it a fictitious value. This is probably not to be wondered at, since the population is not migratory in its character. The land handed down from father to son through successive generations begets an undue attachment to one's native heath.

The people are descendants of Virginians mostly, who pierced the wilds of Northeastern Kentucky the latter part of the last century. Simon Kenton, the famous hunter and companion of Boone, pitched his camp some where near Washington, the old county seat. The landmarks of an early civilization are rapidly passing away however, and the noble forests are fading away before the stealthy tread of tobacco; in fact, tobacco is king and eclipses all other staples.

Has Mason any heroes? Yes, sleeping beneath the palm-trees on Southern battle fields; on the vine-clad hills of the North, unknown graves mark the resting place of some of her noble sons. She has produced men eminent in the professions and art. In the law, she had her Wadsworth and Plister; Governor Mathews, of Indiana, whom the writer heard deliver an address at the dedication of the Indiana State Building at the World's fair, was a Mason County man, now the pride of the Hoosiers: John Shewalter, the profound and analytic lawyer of Chicago, caught the inspiration of life on Mason County soil. Then there is her her scientist, John R. Proctor, and her poet, Henry T. Statton, whose "Moneyless Man" is a classic in American literature. Thus we might go on but enough have been mentioned to place the laurel upon her brow and call her queen among the sisterhood of counties of North Eastern Kentucky. But it is her social side that commands admiration. It was my good fortune once to enjoy the Christmas tide in Mason. Where are the Christmases merrier? Where does the yule log burn with a brighter glow and cast its ruddy flame upon a more hospitable, generous people? Old New England is noted for her pumpkin pies, roast turkey and cranberry sauce and she dispenses her festive gifts with a lavish hospitality during the Thanksgiving and Christmas, but Mason is her peer in this respect; the palate of the most fastidious epicurean is tickled with the most delectable lunches ever devised by the most famous cook.

And then her girls! The fertile Blue Grass region with all her boasted loveliness does not excel them; combining the vivacity and impulsive energy of the North with the rich, voluptuous, beauty of a Southern clime, they will compare with any county in Kentucky and the Romances are just as gallant as any knight-errant of chivalry.

Her soil, climate, people, manufactures combine to make her one of the most prominent counties in the "dark and bloody ground." R. K.

HORACE GREELEY'S UMBRELLA.

I remember one incident of my father's indulgence, writes Horace Greeley's daughter in an article on "My Father's Home Life," in the Ladies' Home Journal. One day he brought home an umbrella with a wooden dog's head as a handle. My covetous little heart proceeded to set itself upon that canine effigy. In vain papa offered me a whole dog. But I pleaded that no other head in the world would be like that head, and the result was he sawed it off and went back to town with a headless umbrella.

As Our Last Week's Sale of Dress Goods and Cloaks

Surpassed our best expectations, we will evince our appreciation to the ladies by sweeping reductions in our Silk department. We have in this stock a number of remnants ranging from one and a half to five yards, and costing from 75c. to $1.37½, which we will sell at the enticing price of 50c. per yard. We have also a few Dress Patterns of Silk Crepons in evening shades, formerly $1 per yard, but put in this sale at 50 cents. These goods are very handsome and well worth the attention of buyers. In this sale we will include two Hosiery bargains—50c. quality of Black Hose, 35 cents a pair, or three pair for $1; 35c. quality for 25c. a pair, or five pair for $1. These are excellent values, and necessities which should appeal to all. Sales at above prices must be for cash.

Something of great interest to housekeepers our advertisement of next week will contain. Watch for it

REV. G. S. LUCAS.

A Former Maysville Pastor Meeting With Success at Allegheny, Pennsylvania

The many friends of Rev. C. S. Lucas, formerly pastor of the Christian Church of this city, will be glad to learn that he has about recovered his health, and has resumed his work as pastor of the First Christian Church of Allegheny, Pa. They will also rejoice to learn of the success that is crowning his work in his new field of labor.

There were 170 additions to the First Church last year, making a total membership now of 1,074. The Sunday school has a roll of over 600, with an average attendance of between 400 and 500. The Endeavor societies have about 250 members. The usual missionary contributions were paid last year, all current expenses met, some extra repairs and work done, all bills paid and several hundred dollars left in the treasury. Such is a brief summary of the annual report of the church clerk.

At the close of the annual meeting, January 9th, the congregation unanimously and enthusiastically voted Brother Lucas a three months vacation, with money enough for an extended trip to the Bermudas, Azores, Spain, Egypt, Palestine, Constantinople, Athens, Rome and other points in the old world. He will sail February 6th, from New York on the ship Friesland, with about 400 other tourists, about a score of preachers being in the number.

THE LATE COLONEL OWENS.

The Remains Laid to Rest Saturday in the "City of the Dead." The Funeral.

The funeral of the late Colonel Frank S. Owens occurred Saturday at 11 a. m. at the family residence, with religious services by Rev. R. G. Patrick. The members of Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., attended in a body. Owing to the intensely cold weather and the blizzard that was raging, only the family of deceased, some other relatives and intimate friends, the pall-bearers and the guard of honor accompanied the remains to the grave.

The Templar services were conducted by Very Eminent Sir Warren LaRue Thomas, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Encampment of the United States, acting as Prelate, with P. E. C. Garrett S. Wall as Eminent Commander. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Henry C. Barkley, Thomas A. Davis, W. C. Sadler, W. H. Means, John C. Adamson and James H. Hall. The guard of honor were Sir Knights E. A. Robinson, Thomas A. Keith, John H. Hall, W. C. Miner, J. D. Dye, L. C. Blatterman, A. C. Sphar and Ben E. Roe, the latter of Greenup.

Death of Miss Phoebe Wood.

Miss Phoebe Wood died suddenly Sunday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Pogue, at Cincinnati. Deceased was a sister Messrs. J. James Wood and Geo. T. Wood, of this city, and was a christian woman, loved and esteemed by all who knew her.

The telegram that brought the sad news gave no particulars as to the cause of death. The remains will be brought here for interment.

The Modern Mother.

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

PORTSMOUTH TIMES: "Another delightful card party has been numbered among the many pleasant ones of the past few weeks. Thursday evening was the date of this party, given by Miss Hope Watkins, in honor of her guest, Miss May Hord, of Maysville. The guests were all young people, a sufficient number to occupy thirteen tables. The score card had been arranged for twenty games, but the time had passed so quickly all were anxious to continue, and seven more games were played."

MISSSES MAGGIE, Nettie and Eugene Murphy, of Cincinnati, entertained at their home on Ninth street a few evenings since in honor of their sister, Miss Emily, who was their guest during the holidays. About thirty young people responded to the invitations. Mr. Frank Robinson delighted all by his beautiful rendition on the violin of "One Heart, One Soul." The house was prettily decorated with holly and mistletoe. Music and recitations were the feature of the evening, and at 12 o'clock the guests sat down to a tempting collation.

IN STATE.

The Remains of Rev. Father Glorieux Placed in the Sanctuary of St. Patrick's Church.

The remains of Rev. Father Glorieux were yesterday afternoon removed from the parlors of the parochial residence to the sanctuary of St. Patrick's Church where they will lie in state until tomorrow morning after the funeral services. The body is laid in a handsome casket and dressed in the vestments the good priest had often worn in celebrating the holy sacrifice of the mass, with a gold chalice in his hands.

The remains were looked upon for the last time during the afternoon by many of the good citizens of Maysville, members of the Catholic Church and others who long ago learned to love and esteem the venerable pastor of St. Patrick's, who for nearly thirty-one years lived among us, and who by his exemplary conduct and christian bearing in all these years won the respect of the entire community. Deceased was charitable far beyond his means and many a poor family in this city lost a most valuable friend in his death.

The altars are heavily draped in mourning as are also the interior and the front of the church.

All the Catholic societies of this city will attend the funeral in a body, and representatives of the different organizations are now at the church and will remain until after the funeral.

SELLING CIGARS ON SUNDAY.

The Trial of the Central Hotel Company Saturday Results in a Hung Jury.

The trial of the Central Hotel Company Saturday afternoon before Judge Wade-worth and a jury attracted a big crowd to the Police Court.

The charge was violating the Sunday law by selling cigars. The jury was composed of Messrs. John C. Adamson, Jas. H. Rains, G. W. Geisel, C. C. Calhoun, Hays Thomas and H. M. King. Messrs. L. W. Robertson and E. L. Worthington appeared as attorneys for the company, while City Attorney Chamberlain looked after the prosecution.

The company did not deny selling cigars, but the line of defense was that cigars and tobacco were necessary for some people, as much so almost as food.

The case was submitted without argument. The jurors were unable to agree and were discharged. They stood five for conviction and one for acquittal.

THE KENTUCKY DIOCESE.

It May be Divided and There May be Two Episcopal Bishops Hereafter in This State.

There will be a convocation of the Episcopal ministers of Kentucky at Lexington this week, called by Bishop Dudley, to consider the important question of having two Bishops, instead of one, for Kentucky, or rather to consider the boundaries of the proposed new diocese.

The increasing duties imposed on Bishop Dudley are said to be too great, and the matter of an additional Bishop for the State has been settled upon.

The two dioceses are to be known as the Northern and Southern Kentucky Dioceses. Bishop Dudley is to have charge of the latter, his residence to remain at Louisville.

THE INCOME TAX.

An Important Pointer For Those Who Are Liable.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Senator Gordon of Georgia in conversation Saturday, called attention to certain provisions in the income tax law, which compel the taxpayers to make returns and pay their taxes upon incomes whether the pending appropriation to carry out the law passes or not. Those who hope to escape payment of income tax, through failure of congress to make the appropriation asked for, and who are thus led to neglect making their returns at the time fixed by law, will find themselves involved in 50 per cent heavier taxes.

POISONED HIS SISTER

Boy Administers a Fatal Dose While "Playing Doctor."

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 14.—At Charleston Ind., 12 miles from Jeffersonville, Dr. Charles Dottoroff's little son gave his sister, who was sick, a deadly poison while "playing doctor." Shortly after ward the doctor, who keeps a drug store, came in and found the girl in convulsions. The boy told his father what he had done, but after replacing the bottle in the prescription case was unable to again find it. The child lingered in intense agony for several hours before death relieved it.

The prospects for a speedy settlement of the coal miners' strike at Dubois, Pa., are apparently very good. The men are willing to work on short time, if their comrades, who were recently discharged are taken back. They say they will make this concession in order to keep the families of the idle miners from starving. The strikers say they are willing to make any reasonable compromise that will give all of them at least enough to provide bread for their families.

No Dogs Are There.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 14.—The three bears that escaped Monday from an Italian showman are still at large, although half a dozen scouting parties have been out two days. Several shots have been fired at the animals. While some children were on their way to school at Blue Ridge one of the bears started toward them. Philip Steinway was attacked by another bear near Lowery woods, but beat it off with a fence rail. The militia will go out and surround Lowery's woods.

Help For the Suffering.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14.—Columbus citizens will today send a carload of provisions to Gloucester for the relief of distressed minors, and will send another later. Cincinnati will send a carload of provisions to Nelsonville and another to Shawnee. It is becoming apparent that the greatest distress exists in Perry county, the minors at Hemlock and Buckingham especially having suffered great privation.

For Nebraska Sufferers.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14.—S. N. Edmonds, who was the first to propose that the south should contribute a trainload or more of provisions to suffering Nebraska, is advised that nearly a full train of rice, sugar, molasses and other state produce has been made up in Louisiana. Five or six New Orleans firms have each contributed a full carload of their wares. The train will leave New Orleans this week. A trainload of grain and meat, contributed by the people of Georgia, will leave Atlanta Tuesday.

Want the Laws Enforced.

TRENTON, Jan. 14.—Church members, regardless of denomination, are forming a law and order league to put a stop to Sunday liquor selling and to close up the disorderly houses. It is believed that public sentiment will force the police to act very soon.

Battle With Dervishers.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A dispatch from Cairo to The Daily News says that the dervishers attacked the Egyptian outposts 100 miles west of Wady Halfa. Several Egyptians were killed. Camel corps, under Captain Treadway, is pursuing the dervishers.

Killed From an Old War Wound.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 14.—Allen D. Richards, Republican representative from Carroll county, died at the Central hotel here yesterday. Tonsillitis, which aggravated a wound received in the neck during the war, caused death.

High Diver Injured.

WILLIS, Tex., Jan. 14.—Frank Zelno, professional high diver, in making an 80-foot leap, missed his tank. He turned himself and struck on his feet, breaking both legs and sustaining other injuries. He will probably die.

May Be Fatal to Two.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 14.—Michael McGregg and Walter Hays, two miners employed in one of the Diamond Coal company's mines north of this city, were caught by a heavy fall of slate while at work. Hays was crushed beyond recognition, dying instantly. McGregg was horribly mashed and lacerated, but is yet alive.

Police Claim a Claw.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14.—The police claim to have a claw to the murderers of Farmer James Jameson, who was shot at his home near Dublin. The three men were tracked to within three miles of Columbus, when they separated. The county commissioners have offered a reward of $100 each for the three men.

Mines to Resume.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—Eight mines in the Massillon coal region will resume work today. The drivers, who struck recently, held a mass meeting yesterday and decided to accept $1.60 a day for an indefinite period. It is the belief of the operators that all the mines will resume before the end of the week.

Weekly Review of Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

Furnished by the Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company:

The second week in the new year brought the largest offerings in one day that our market ever had, namely, 1,065 hds, on Wednesday, and over 800 hds on Thursday, being cut short on the latter day on account of the darkness which set in about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, making it impracticable to go on with the sales. We are glad to say that, in the face of these large offerings, no weakening in prices was perceptible and the results of the week may be considered favorable. The stocks of old are, of course, reducing; the larger part of the offerings are medium goods and selling below 8 cents, while the comparatively few hogheads of fine tobacco range from 15c to 20c. An interesting comparison in this connection is that on a given day for the two years, 1894 and 1895, we take Wednesday of the present week, in 1894, there were 120 hds sold below 8c and 545 hds above, a ratio of one to four in favor of the higher price, while in the present year 514 hds sold below 8c and 137 hds above, or say, one to five in favor of the lower price.

In new tobacco the difference is not so large, though also showing a preponderance of low grade goods. In an equal number of hds on the two corresponding days, prices run as follows:

In the present year 100 hds sold from 10c to 7c, 77 hds from 6c to 10c, and 31 hds above 10c. In the year 1894, 57 hds sold from 1c to 6c, 103 hds from 6c to 10c, and 48 hds above 10c. If the weather is favorable the receipts and sales of the new crop will continue large from now on, and the buyers are ready to take the goods.

PAINTED AND DYED.

Such Are the Arab Girls Before They Enter the Harem.

Arab girls before they enter the harem and take the veil are a curious sight to behold. Their bodies and faces are dyed a bright yellow with turmeric. On this ground they paint black lines with antimony over their eyes. The fashionable color for the nose is red. Green spots adorn the cheeks, and the general aspect is grotesque beyond description.

My wife tells me that the belles in the sultan's harem are also painted in this fashion, and that they also paint gloves on their hands and shoes on their feet, and thus bedizen hope to secure the affections of their lords. At Shief the men would not allow my wife to approach or hold any intercourse with the Arab women, using opprobrious epithets when she tried to make friendly overtures, with the result that whenever Mrs. Bent advanced toward a group of gazing females they fled precipitately, like a flock of sheep before a collie dog. These women wear their dresses high in front, showing their yellow legs above the knee, and long behind. They are of deep blue cotton, decorated with fine embroidery and patches of yellow and red sewed on in pattern.

It is the universal female dress in Hadramut and looks as if the fashion had not changed since the days when Hazaratveth, the patriarch, settled in this valley and gave it his name (Genesis, 28). The tall, tapering straw hat worn by these women when in the fields contributes, with the mask, to make the Hadrami females as externally repulsive as the most jealous of husbands could desire.—Nineteenth Century.

A Wonderful Mirage.

The people of Belleville, a little village of 150 inhabitants situated on the St. Lawrence river nearly 800 miles from Montreal, were recently surprised by a beautiful mirage which hung over the town for nearly an hour. It was the image of a six story brick building and was so clear cut and well defined that the color of the bricks and mortar could be plainly distinguished. Everybody in the little village gathered on the river bank and watched the beautiful vision as it slowly faded away to the northward. Whether the original of the mirage is a building situated in Montreal, Quebec or some city of New York state has not yet been determined and probably never will be, owing to the elusive character of such phenomena.—St. Louis Republic

Popcorn pops because the essential oil in the corn is converted into gas by heat, and thus an explosion occurs which tears the kernel open and causes a singular inversion of its contents.

The outer layers of the alligator's skin are said to contain a large percentage of silica; hence the hardness of the animal's hide.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
